Apex Corporate Finance (“Apex”) is pleased to announce that it has initiated the acquisition of Pageone Communications Limited (“Pageone”), a specialist critical messaging solutions business, for its client Capita plc (“Capita”).

Pageone provides critical messaging services from secure business messaging and lone worker support, through to business continuity communications.

Chris Jones, CEO of PageOne commented “In Capita, we have found a FTSE100 company, highly respected in the UK and with a strong private and public sector customer base that is a natural fit for our portfolio of critical messaging services from secure business messaging and lone worker support, through to business continuity communications”.
